How is the portfolio managed?

We invest your money with the following in mind:

Long-Term Perspective

The portfolio is constructed around a strategic asset allocation process based on the objectives of the strategy. The portfolio and asset allocation are reviewed to adapt to changes in market conditions within our long-term investment approach.

Quality

The extensive capabilities of Morningstar's Manager Research are used to identify the preferred active strategies in each asset class. Morningstar Investment Management then selects the funds and blends them using both qualitative and quantitative processes to achieve the portfolio's investment objective. Risk management is a core focus throughout the process.

Managed Volatility

Morningstar applies a strategic asset allocation framework to determine the ideal portfolio construction intended to achieve the return objective over the investment time horizon, with a preference for lower volatility strategies in each asset class.

Cost Optimisation

Portfolios are continually reviewed and changes made as appropriate, taking into account the cost versus benefit. Consistent with Morningstar's principle of investing for the long term, turnover of underlying managers within the portfolio is kept to a minimum, avoiding changes for changes sake. Managers are selected and measured over the appropriate time horizon for their strategy.
